WELCOME
HERE

Want to keep your mask ON for health or personal reasons?

After a LONG and prayerful 14 months, we are (cautiously) announcing the return to our familiar, patterns of Holy Worship:

- Worship is indoors in our Sanctuary
- Masks are worn at YOUR personal convenience.
- Congregational singing has returned
- a full-reading of the liturgy will occur

Holy Communion will still be celebrated using individual cups, just until the vaccination rate of our county has risen just a bit more, and Social Distancing will still be encouraged while inside the building, and Fellowship Time will eventually return.

Thank you for all you have done to help protect your neighbor during these trying times! God's Work, Our Hands!

PASTORAL MUSINGS FROM PR. BRENDA

Dear, dear Church,

As you all know, I live directly across the highway from Gethsemane Lutheran Church. This means that when I look out my front, picture window, I have a direct line of sight to the wooden cross in front of the Church.

Now, for MONTHS, I have had a front-row seat to whichever fabric happens to be draped over the cross: purple Easter. (Yes! It's a whole season, not just a day!)

MOST times, the flag would be waving in the breeze, and I'd say a quick prayer of thankfulness that I get to serve two fantastic congregations here in the UP. SOME days, however, the fabric would have become tangled during the night. The one side would be all twisted-up and caught on one of the arms of the cross. Other times, it would look as though someone had knotted the entire thing TO the cross. Either way, if it had not UNtangled or UNknotted itself, I would drive by the cross, and set things straight, and put the fabric back in place.

I must have done this for WEEKS before realizing: how incredibly FUTILE! What was I accomplishing!? Here I was, cleaning up the CROSS: the symbol of such a violent and horrific act upon which our God's SON was killed. Clean-up the cross!? Who did I think I was? Humanity was what put Jesus up on that cross to begin with, and here I thought I could straighten up the cross.

When this thought finally hit me, I sat on the ledge, near the cross, and thought about ALL the ways we try to clean-up, to sanitize the Cross and the message of the Gospel:

- we tell the good, ole familiar Bible stories, and leave out the ones that would mean some hard, personal work for us
- we pick hymns that only focus on love and joy, and omit the ones that would mean actually having to think through Christ's sacrifice
- we do silly things like trying to tidy-up the fabric on the cross, when in fact, the cross did the straightening-up FOR US already.

Our Christian past - and the happenings on the cross - are neither neat nor tidy, and nor is the path forward. But lest we think there are only knots and entanglements ahead, we must also remember the HOPE and GRACE that the very cross itself gives.

I leave you with this second picture: some free-flowing fabric on a cross, bags of manure to fertilize the soil nearby, and bright greenery surrounding bulbs just ready to burst into life. I couldn't help but chuckle when coming upon this scene! Such is life:

- we're going to be blown about a bit, but will land and cling to the promises of the Cross,
- life might STINK at times, but the struggle just might fortify us for that next battle, and
- the blossoming promise of new and beautiful life is always near. Thanks be to God!

Praising God for the messy and beautiful promises of the Cross,
Pr. Brend

TIMBER! If a dying Spruce tree falls on Church property, does it make a sound!? Yes, yes it does! Many thanks to: Keith Olson and his chainsaw for safely bringing down that tree, Cheri Leiphart for her UP strength in chopping up that tree, Wally Majkrzak for powerfully shredding what was left of the stump, and to Nick Diehm for raking up the remnants and smoothing out the land.
God's Work, our MANY Hands!

Old Glory is proudly waving high above Bethesda Cemetery thanks to Sharon and Alvin Etelemaki, and the donation of a flag from a veteran in their family. Keith Olson made sure the new flag was ready in time for Memorial Day celebrations, and meticulously straightened out some tipped-over headstones while on the grounds.

We thank Judy Anderson for carry on +Clyde Thoune's+ legacy of beautifying the front of St. Stephen's.

*Just like nature SPRINGS to new life, so do we. HIS mercies are new every morning.

HYMN OF THE WEEK
Out of the Depths

WEEKLY MILESTONES

Take a moment to tell or think about a recent mountain high and/or valley low in your life.

CARING CONVERSATIONS

Discuss in your home, small group, or use for personal reflections:

- When people disagree and are unkind to each another, how can they resolve the dispute?
- What is something you would describe as evil?
- The scribes described Jesus' healing others as the work of evil. How would you describe Jesus' healing of others?

DEVOTIONS

Read: Mark 3:20-35.

In the opening chapters of Mark, Jesus has already cast out demons and healed lepers and others with physical ailments; but scribes said he did this work on behalf of demons. To this accusation, Jesus states in the strongest terms possible that such a position is wrong. It is one thing not to see God's liberating work at play in the world. It is another to dare to call it the work of evil. The good news is that Jesus' work of healing (same word for salvation in the Greek language) is real and is meant to bless and save lives. In our age of divided loyalties and accusations, Jesus' words are a good warning to us not to judge others too harshly. Even though you may not see it, they may be doing the work of God to free lives and reconcile relationships. It is a sobering thought for sobering times. When have you felt that someone was acting in a way opposed to God's work in the world? Explain.

Pray: God of power and might, in Christ's name help us to recognize your healing work in the world and be part of reconciling relationships. Amen.

SERVICE

A life of service begins with an attitude of humility and repentance. Psalm 130:1-2 states, "Out of the depths I cry to you, O LORD. Lord, hear my voice! Let your ears be attentive to the voice of my supplication." We are asking God to hear our cry for help and our cry for forgiveness. God hears our prayers. Pray either alone or with others as you ask for God to hear your prayer of repentance so that you can be a loving servant.

RITUALS AND TRADITIONS

Summer activities will begin soon. Talk about your plans and the changes in schedules. Conclude your discussion time with this prayer: Dear God, thank you for school, work, friends, and family. As we begin our summer activities, keep us safe, renew us in body and spirit, and help us to show kindness to others. Amen.
